

Edgefield Advertiser.

Begin work on your float or rig.

Nominations For The Contest.

The names of the following young ladies have been nominated for The Advertiser's grand voting contest and others will probably follow next week.

	Votes
Miss Lena Lanham,	2,000
Miss Lila DeLaughter,	2,000
Miss Ida Timmerman,	2,000
Miss Lottie Strom,	2,000
Miss Mary Emma Williams,	2,000
Miss Sara Stevens,	2,000
Miss Maria Hill,	2,000
Miss Carrie Collins,	2,000
Miss Ruth Etheredge,	2,000
Miss Burda Long,	2,000
Miss Ellee Swearingen,	2,000
Miss Mamie Cheatham,	2,000
Miss Lura Mims,	2,000
Miss Mamie Morgau,	2,000
Miss Marie Blackwell,	2,000
Miss Annie McDonald,	2,000
Miss Nellie Bodie,	2,000
Miss Ethel Stone,	2,000
Miss Martha Strom,	2,000
Miss Mattie Bailey,	2,000
Miss Maggie Winn,	2,000
Miss Ollie Byrd,	2,000
Miss Ellie Mae Miller,	2,000
Miss Elise Bussey,	2,000

An Approaching Marriage.

A marriage in which many persons in both Edgefield and Greenwood counties are greatly interested is that of Miss Tabbie Ouzts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ouzts, to Mr. J. D. Kemp, second son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Kemp, which will take place Thursday evening, November 20, at eight o'clock. Both of these young people are deservedly very popular and there will be increasing interest in their nuptials as the time approaches.

Music Adds Brightness.

It adds so much to the brightness and happiness of the home to have music. The piano which will be awarded as the first prize in The Advertiser's subscription contest will furnish music in some Edgefield home for the next 20 or 30 years. It is a prize worth competing for. It will be awarded honestly, no partiality being shown any contestant. Young ladies, even if there should be a piano in the home win this one and have a valuable instrument of your own—one that will last 30 years.

Decorated Rigs.

Quite a number are planning rigs to enter the parade next week but there should be still others. More attractive prizes have been offered this year than ever before, $10 and $5 for the adult rigs and $5 and $2.50 for the child's rigs. Surely this should induce a large number to decorate rigs for the parade. There is yet ample time to plan a rig but active work should begin at once. Be public spirited and contribute to the success of the parade by having the very prettiest rig in the entire pageant. You can if you only resolve to do it. Mrs. B. L. Mims is the chairman of this committee and she will cheerfully give you every assistance possible.

Augusta's Department Store.

Attention is directed to the large advertisement of the J. B. White Company of Augusta. This large store has 52 departments and each department is filled to the brim, ready for the great throng of people who will go to Augusta next week to attend the Georgia-Carolina fair. The J. B. White Company will have on special prices for the fair and will also pay the freight on all purchases within 200 miles of Augusta. This popular store has many friends throughout Edgefield county who have always found it thoroughly dependable. Visit Augusta's only department store when you attend the fair.

Strom-Talbert.

Wedding bells have been ringing merrily in the Rehoboth community. Last Tuesday, October 21, Miss May Belle Strom and Mr. James P. Talbert were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sallie Strom. The making of one of the twin not only unites two happy young lives but in this instance brings into closer relations two old and honored families of the county. Rev. J. T. Littlejohn bespoke the words that cemented the matrimonial bonds. Mr. Talbert is a sterling citizen and is widely esteemed because of the splendid qualities which he possesses. The beautiful bride is richly endowed with those graces of mind and heart which enable a woman to measure up to the highest, noblest and best that there is in life. She will be a ray of sunshine in her bridal home as she has been from childhood in her parental home. We extend to our young friends our sincerest congratulations.

Honorary Members.

The following ladies have been elected honorary members of the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C.

Mrs. R. H. Mims, Mrs. M. E. Carwile, Mrs. E. E. Adams, Mrs. Emeline Cartledge, Mrs. Zella Paul, Mrs. Kate Mims, Mrs. Kate Butler, Mrs. Elizabeth Nicholson, Mrs. A. R. Nicholson, Mrs. J. A. Holland, Mrs. Mary Thurmond, Mrs. Emma Dobson.

Mrs. Shannonhouse Entertains.

Mrs. W. D. Warren was greatly honored as a guest in Edgefield on several occasions. Besides the delightful reception in her honor at the country home of Mrs. Mamie Warren, an elaborate affair was planned in her honor at the home of Mrs. Shannonhouse on Friday afternoon.

The lower floor of the rectory was used on this occasion, and Halloween decorations were chosen as the predominant design. At the door, little Norma Shannonhouse met the guests and pinned on with her skillful fingers a striking pumpkin head in paper of Halloween proportions. As the guests entered they were charmed with the happy effect of autumn leaves in combination with the proverbial pumpkin in brown and yellow. Mrs. Joseph Holland met the guests and conducted them in the hall where stood the bride, Mrs. Shannonhouse, Mrs. Warren and other friends who greeted the guests most cordially.

Hot tea, very appropriate to the day, and most delightful sandwiches with salted almonds, and on the departure of the guests, fruit punch of a golden color, were served.

From four to six the guests were arriving and leaving and all were wreathed with smiles, anticipating pleasant things, and enjoying to as great an extent their realization.

The State Convention.

(Communicated.)

The U. D. C. state convention which convenes at Edgefield, Tuesday, December 2, will open with exercises in the opera house at 8 o'clock p. m. Ex-Gov. J. C. Shepard will deliver the address of welcome from the town. Mrs. N. G. Evans will express welcome from the U. D. C. chapter. Other welcome addresses will be made from different organizations by Mrs. J. L. Mims, Mrs. T. H. Rainsford and Miss Sadie Mims. The response from the state division will be made by Miss Tompkins. The D. A. R.'s will be represented by Mrs. Coleman. Gen. M. L. Bonham will deliver the historical address, second evening of the convention, December 3, in the opera house.

Beautiful Occasion.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week, many invited guests to the reception given by Mrs. Mamie Warren in honor of Mrs. W. D. Warren, made their way with delightful anticipations to this handsome ante-bellum home. Here the lovely and honored mother of this family lives, and entertained on this happy occasion. We could not say who were present or how many, because the happy company were coming and going from 3 o'clock until a late afternoon hour, but while there were there the spacious and comfortable home was filled with the cheeriest and most congenial of company.

From the entrance at the gate, where there was evidence of real heart hospitality, to the exit at a later hour there was the ring of genuine welcome. The guests were greeted on entrance at the front door and conducted into the parlor where stood the gracious and queenly bride beside her mother Mrs. Mamie Warren, who is often spoken of as one of Edgefield's most beautiful ladies. Having been introduced and passed pleasant greetings the guests were served to delightful fruit punch by charming young ladies in the hallway, afterwards being adorned by little Miss Norma Shannonhouse with souvenir cards in lovely hand-painted designs bearing autumn flowers and the auspicious date.

In the dining room, cake and cream were served in abundant supply and the social feature was exceedingly enjoyable. The decorations in white were very beautiful and appropriate, and the twilight effect was made by the darkened windows and the many lighted candles.

The invited guests are greatly indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Warren for this pleasant occasion.

A Guest.

The Trenton High School Music Society Entertained.

The Trenton High School music society was delightfully entertained by little Miss Susan Mathis last Friday afternoon.

The following program was very successfully carried out: Cloister bells, Miss Julia Wise.

The Corner Store Never Stands Still

Her Salesforce is Ever on the Alert for something new. Mr. Turner is now in the markets searching for the new and latest fads. Next week you will find here many new and moderately priced items of cold weather wearables. (To make room) we are offering many articles priced much below their actual value. We mention only a few things which point the way to many others.

Shirt Waists of Pure Linen

Tucked and plain worth up to $3, in the sale at, each $1.25
No alterations, no approvals

Messaline Silk Petticoats

Priced 1.98 to 2.50. Colors, navy, green, purple and black.

RAIN coats of merit, the kind that keeps you dry, worth up to $3.98, going at

Coat Suits, Long Coats, Wraps

We are exhibiting a line that bespeaks good taste and refinement, yet priced within reach of all who wish a winter suit, wrap, or dress.

Sweaters of pure wool, others mixed with cotton, all marked down to about half their regular price. Rain hats at 50c, 75c. and $1 each.

Come, look them over. Don't wait until the fair is on us. A cordial welcome awaits you.

THE CORNER STORE, W. H. TURNER, Proprietor.

Snow flakes, Miss Miriam Holland.

Warblings at Eve, Miss Helen Marsh.

Essay, Robert Schuman, Misses Mattie Lee Long and Mary Helen Harrison.

Ready for the Ball, Miss Grace Salter.

The beetles Dance, Miss Laurie Moore.

Vocal solo, little Miss Susan Mathis accompanied by little Miss Margaret Courtney.

Russit waltz, Miss Lillian Marsh. Come lets dance, Miss Louise Padgett.

Vocal solo, little Miss Margaret Courtney accompanied by little Miss Susan Mathis.

Contest of musical terms—music class in which Miss Mattie Lee Long was the winner of a useful prize given by the president, Miss Ray Swearingen.

After delicious refreshments were served the meeting then adjourned to meet again on November 15, with the president, Miss Ray Swearingen.

Callie Wise, Sec.

Sale of ## Personal Property.

On November the 17th (Monday) I will offer the following for sale at my home in Edgefield county to the highest bidder, terms cash:

- 1 mule,
- 1 mare,
- 4 milch cows,
- 2 Jersey heifers.
- 1 2-horse wagon.
- 3 buggies,
- Farm Implements,
- Shop tools,
- One organ,
- All household and kitchen furniture,
- Corn, fodder, and many things too numerous to mention.

Sale to begin at 10 o'clock.

P. B. WHATLEY,
Clark's Hill, S. C.

Oct. 25, 1913.

County Fair

Nov. 5, 6, 7.

promises to be the best of them all. Do your shopping now and be prepared to enjoy the occasion. You can find in our various departments a well selected stock from which to make your purchases. Our millinery department is frequently replenished by the new things as they come out.

In our large line of shoes of the best make, you can get such size and style that you wish. Make our store your headquarters and tell your friends to meet you there.

Yours to serve,

Rives Bros.